

The following classes will be offered by DuPage County Genealogical Society at the Helen Plum Memorial Library,
110 West Maple Street,
Lombard, IL 60148.
All classes will focus on American sources.

Class #1: September 25, 2008, 7 to 9 PM.

Building a Firm Foundation

Need a starting point? This class will have some answers. Tips on interviewing relatives as well as what can be found at home will be discussed. Other topics include discerning quality sources and using correspondence effectively.

Class #2: October 2, 2008, 7 to 9 PM.

For the Record

Find out what records such as birth, marriage, probate, cemetery and death may hold for your family tree. Learn how to organize information from records using forms and computer programs.

Class #3: October 9, 2008, 7 to 9 PM.

A Sensational Source

So widely available and useful, find out what the Federal Census records and associated indices offer. Discussion will also include an overview of other federal records.

Class #4: October 23, 2008, 7 to 9 PM.

All the News That's Fit to Print

There's more than news in the newspaper and obituaries are featured. The class will also discuss various types of libraries and what genealogical resources you might find at each.

Class #5: October 30, 2008, 7 to 9 PM.

Full Circle

How and where to find real sources on the web including images and text. Problem solving, the research cycle and field trip hints are also discussed.
